Steps to reduce consumption of alcoholic beverages

7299. SHRI KRISHNA KUMAR BIRLA: Will the Minister of WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government propose to initiate steps to reduce the consumption of alcoholic beverages and also for total prohibition in the country;

(b) if so, whether the Central Prohibition Committee has made several recommendations for total prohibition;

(c) the details of the recommendations made by the Committee;

(d) whether Government propose to direct State Governments to implement prohibition; and

(e) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WELFARE (SHRI K. V. THANGKA BALU): (a) to (e) The Central Prohibition and Drug Abuse Prevention Committee has not made any recommendations for total prohibition. Prohibition being a State subject, it is for the State Governments to introduce prohibition. Government of India has, however, issued a Minimum Programme for Prohibition in 1975 and guidelines for Implementation of Prohibition in 1978 (copies attached). In addition, awareness programme to educate the public against evils of alcoholism has also been launched.

GUIDELINES FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF PROHIBITION
(1975)

Immediate steps

(i) Introduction of dry days:

(a) Starting with two days in a week in 1978, the number off dry days should be increased to 4 in 1979, 6 in 1980 and all days in 1981.

(b) Dry days should be declared in consultation with neighbouring States, so as to haxe maximum success.

(c) Invariably 'pay day' should be a dry day.

(d) Martyr's Day and Gandhi Jayanti and all important religious festivals should be dry days.

(2) Immediate stoppage of drinking in public places like hotels, hostels, restaurants, clubs and at public recceptions.

(3) Discontinuance of advertisements.

(4) No new licences to be given for distilleries, breweries, retail liquor shops etc. anywhere.

(5) Non-renewal of licences which will expire within the next one year-notice to be given now itself.

(6) Withdrawal within the next 12 months of licences to shops:

(a) real industrial irrigation and other projects;

(b) on highways, residential areas, educational institutions, religious places and colonies of workers.

(7) Personal example to be set by leaders of public opinion, including Ministers, MPs and M.L.As.

(8) Government servant, being debarred from drinking in public is not enough. They should set an example by completely giving up drinking. Drunkenness while on duty to be severely punished. Suitable provisions in the Conduct Rules governing State Government servants to be made in the light of Rules made for the Central Government servants.

(9) Strict enforcement of Motor Vehicles (Amendment) Act, 1977.

(10) Organising regional meetings/committees for smoother implementation.

II. Steps for the long term:

The State Government need to undertake at once the following exercise so as to prepare for steps which are to be implemented in the long term:—

(1) Permit system to be worked out for

(a) addicts;

(b) those on medical treatment;

(c) medicinal use in emergent cases;

(d) temporary foreign residents;

(e) privileged persons, e.g. Heads of States, Ambassadars, Diplomatic Envoys etc.

(f) tourists;

(g) tribal areas where it is part of the culture to use liquor at ceremonies; and

(h) brewing of rice and mahuwa flowers and other country liquor:

Permits should be restricted to the minimum;

(2) Provision of money staff, and structure for De-addiction Centre and Welfare of families of Addicts.

(3) Provision of suitable alternative like Neera and progressive reduction of strength of alcohol in alcoholic beverages.

(4) Reduction in allocation of alcohol for potable purpose and greater diversion of alcohol for industrial purpose e.g. in 1978-79 a reduction of 25 per cent in the alcohol for potable purposes may be tried, to be doubled in the next year and ultimately fully by 1980. Possibilities of export of alcohol to be explored.

(5) Exercises in relation to minimisation of unemployment which may arise on account of implementation of prohibition and working out alternative avenues of employment.

(6) Making drinking unfashionable by incorporating suitable lessons in text books, educational institutions etc., and infusing proper values in this regard from early childood. Provisioin of money to voluntary organisations for educational publicity.

(7) Exercise on the availability of drugs and other products from which illicit liquor is made including eau-de-cologne and toilet preparations, thinners, tinctures etc. and measures needed to plug the sources, and control their distribution.

(8) Working out the real loss on account of prohibition and how it is to be made up. Details are to be worked out taking into account the channelisation of funds into other areas from people's savings on liquor, extent of revenue gained by the State through diverting alcohol for industrial purpose, export of alcohol etc.

(9) Law to be enacted for implementation of prohibition and drug control.

(10) Additional amount to be provided for implementation machinery including the Police, the Excise, administrative structure tec., and their training.

MINISTRY OF WELFARE
GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

MINIMUM PROGRAMME FOR PROHIBITION ANNOUNCED

The Father of the Nation led the movement to bring about prohibition. He enjoined the people of the country to give up drink habit and abolish liquor shops. It was, therefore, a logical development that pohibition was included in the Constitution of India among the Directive Principles of States Policy.

The Government of India, on the recommendations of the Central Prohibition Committee, have been advocating a number of measures with a view to reducing the consumption of alcoholic beverages and preparing the ground for the introduction of total prohibition. As observed by the Prime Minister in a recent speech, the achievement of the goal is possible only when adequate social pressure is built up and there is a nationwide movement, involving people in all walks of life. Government have, therefore, resolved to pursue the following Minimum Programme for implementation, beginning from the Gandhi Jayanti Day this year.

(i) Discontinuance of advertisements and public inducements relating to drink.

(ii) Stoppage of drinking in public places like hotels, hostels, restaurants and clubs and at public receptions.

(iii) Banning of liquor shops near industrial, irrigation and other development projects in order to keep away the wokers from drinking.

(iv) No liquor shops to be allowed along highways and residential areas in towns and villages, nor anywhere near educational institutions, religious places and colonies of labourers.

Pay days in different areas to be uniformly 'dry' days.

(vi) Stict restrictions to be enforced on motor vehicle drivers and pilots; any infringement of rules to be punished with the cancellation of licences for a sufficiency long period.

(vii) Government servants of all categories including employees of public undertakings, to abstain from drinking in public; drunkenness while on duty to be severely punished.

(viii) No new liquor shops to be opened in any part of the country merely to earn more excise revenue.

(ix) No licence for creation of additional capacity for expansion of existing capacity for distillation or brewing of alcoholic drinks to be granted save in 100 per cent export-oriented cases.

(x) The existing legislation to be tightened up with a view to punshing the guilty more effectively. Special Mobile Police Squads to be organised for the purpose were necessary.

(xi) Widespread and concerned propoganda by official as well as non-official agencies against the evil of drinking.

(xii) Leaders of public opinion to set the tone by their personal example.

It is earnestly hope dthat State Governments, Voluntary Organisations and the public at large will extend their unstinted cooperation in the implementation of the above mentioned programme.
